Central's Eagle-Viewing Facilities to Close for Season

(HOLDREGE, Neb.) -- The weekend of Feb. 28-March 1 will be the last chance to watch bald eagles from The Central Nebraska Public Power and Irrigation District's eagle-viewing facilities at the Johnson No. 2 Hydroplant and at Kingsley Dam.

Central provides the public with opportunities each winter to watch bald eagles and other wildlife that congregate near the District's hydroelectric plants.

The eagle-viewing facility at the Johnson No. 2 (J-2) Hydroplant south of Lexington and the Kingsley Dam viewing center will be open for the last two days of the season (Saturday and Sunday) from 8 a.m. until 2 p.m.

There is no admission fee at either site and reservations are not needed to visit.
